

day 4

→ after fetching the data from sanity on day 3 today on day 4 i have build reusable components which fetches the data from sanity dynamically

src > components > ProductCard.jsx > ProductCard
25 const ProductCard: React.FC<{ item: Products } > = ({ item }) => {
46
47
48   return (
49
50
51
52
53             {/* Replace Image component with img tag for testing */}
54             <img
55               src={item.image.asset.url} // Direct image URL from Sanity
56               alt={item.title}
57               className="hoverscale-110 hover:opacity-70 duration-200"
58               style={{ width: 200, height: 200 }}
59             />
60
61
62
63           <h1 className="text-sm">{item.title}</h1>
64           <button
65             className="mr-2 p-2 rounded-lg duration-200 hover:bg-[#029FAE] font-bold"
66             onClick={(e) => {
67               e.stopPropagation();
68               handleAddToCart(item);
69             }}
70           >
71             <IoCartOutline size={24} />
72           </button>
73
74         ${item.price}
75
76
77   );
78 }
79
80 export default ProductCard;

→ now data dynamically loads on each and every component

Top Categories

→ i used redux-toolkit to add , cart fuctionality which saves the product id in localstorage and then on cart component it matches the item id with product and shows the product to the cart
